CHARMOISE HILL SHEEP

THE HARDY TERMINAL SIRE

WWW.CHARMOISE.ORG

- Low maintenance
- Easy lambing
- Finish off grass

Farmers using Charmoise say:

“They produce solid butcher's lambs that come to weight quickly from pasture”

“The lambs are easy birthing, up sucking straight away and as hard as nails. “

“They are suitable to cross with any other breed and will improve conformation of hill breeds and will easily produce lambs at 21kg deadweight which will grade E and U.

They have a high meat to bone ratio and will kill out at 52 per cent and because of the fine bone, small head and narrow shoulder they are very easy lambing with a lambing libido not seen in any other sheep.”

David Eglin, Charmoise Hill Sheep Society President and British Farming Awards Sheep Farmer of the year 2022.

5 REASONS TO USE A CHARMOISE RAM

REASON 1

They have excellent conformation and carcass traits making them ideal for use as a terminal sire. Their light bone structure means they kill out extremely well.

REASON 2

They are hardy and long lived. They'll survive up on the hill and will keep in condition on poor pasture, living a long age so more lambs per tup bought.

REASON 3

They have a narrow and small head which means they are easier lambing than many other terminal sire breeds. Lambs just pop out making them ideal for outdoor lambing.

REASON 4

Their lambs are vigorous and get up to suckle straight away. They don't give up trying to feed off a stubborn ewe which makes them ideal to use on ewe lambs.

REASON 5

They're excellent grass converters and lambs often move on to grass at a young age putting less strain on the ewe. Again making them excellent for use on ewe lambs but also on older ewes.
